STUDENTS' NEWSPAPER GYMNASIUM NO.1 BELGOROD

Hello, dear readers! After a break we are back again full of ideas. This is a special issue of the school newspaper NUMBER ONE devoted to the Soviet Army Day (or modern version of this holiday). All in all I am going to speak about men.

I think man is the protector. Protector of people and things that he loves: women, Motherland etc. It has always been like that.

Has the image of ideal man changed recently? What kind of man is most attractive for girls? What qualities should he have in their opinion?

I think man should be strong, dependable, clever etc. What do girls think?

In this issue you will read results of our "Finding ideal man" survey which would be interesting for all students no matter male or female.

I hope you will enjoy it.

Yours Alexander Lihosherstov

Dear readers!

This issue of NUMBER ONE is to celebrate our dear boys and men on their holiday.

The tradition of celebrating the 23 of February goes back to the Soviet period of our country. It used to be the military holiday.

Nowadays we pay tribute to men who have defended our land; we also congratulate our fathers, grandfathers and all the male friends, classmates etc. So I am honoured to address the boys of our school with my best wishes.

Dear boys! May success attend you! I want you to be happy, healthy and lucky.

My special respect to students of the 11 form. This is your last year at school, I hope you will be a success at the exams and all your dreams will come true.

My special thanks to men teaching in our school; owing to them the school is a better place to live in.

Yours Catherine Naryan, supervising editor

ur special guest today is Personal Safety teacher Anatoli Semenchuk. He had been in the army for more than twenty years. Mr. Semenchuk had traveled the world a lot before he became a teacher. Here is the interview given to our journalists.

Q. Mr. Semenchuk, what is your military rank? Where were you educated?

A. Colonel. I was educated at Kazan Higher Engineering & Command School and Dzerzhinskiy Academy.

Q. In what regiment did you serve?

A. Strategic Missile Command. I started my service in Cuba and was transferred from one place to another every four or five years. I traveled the world from Cuba to Chukotka and Kamchatka. It was not textbook that taught geography to me.

Q. Do you like to work at school?

A. I have spent 22 years at school, so I am used to teaching. So I suppose I do like it.

Q. What would you wish to our boys?

A. I want them to be worth the high honour of being men, protecting both their Motherland and their families.

LOOKING FOR IDEAL MAN

Girls of our school were asked three questions about ideal man: what kind of person he is, what celebrity they find ideal, who is ideal in our school. Here are the results of the survey.

An ideal man should be courageous, clever, kind, strong and attentive. Most girls also mention sense of humour, honesty and modesty. Good looks are not so important; many respondents say that a man should be "just a little bit more handsome than a monkey".

In spite of this, being asked about an ideal man among rich and famous, girls name Sergei Besrukov, Johnny Depp, Orlando Bloom, Brad Pitt, David Beckham and George Clooney. They are not that ugly, are they?

The school stars are Alex Goncharov, Daniel Bilych, and a mysterious "alligator". PE teachers are also very popular with the public. Mr. Semenchuk is, of course, the celebrity.

No kidding!

What struck me most was the list made by an anonymous, but, no doubt, very smart lady.

1. rich
2. handsome
3. white trainers
4. pink T-shirt
5. black glasses
6. shining belt
7. glamorous watch
8. pierced ear
9. suntan

Mind that sense of humour is not her priority.
